The building is a large, multi-story structure made of red brick with white columns and a prominent white portico. A tall, multi-tiered steeple with a dark roof and a weather vane on top rises from the building. The sky is a pale blue. In the foreground, several vintage cars from the 1960s are parked. Large green trees are visible on the left side of the building.

Foreword

The year is 1967, and the place is High Point College. High Point College is a coeducational institution of higher learning which dates its birth with the founding of Yadkin College in 1856. HPC has come a long way since 1924 when the College first opened its doors to students.

Today High Point College represents growing, building, striving, and succeeding. The College is a community within itself. It has its own work, projects, and goals. At present we are busy with the Golden Decade Program. The first project, a new science building, has been most successful.

The College is definitely a great part of the community. Both of these interchange all phases of culture which broaden education. The Magic Block purchased by the College has brought new industry and growth to our city.

Besides material building, the College has been helping men and women to build. Today's students are tomorrow's leaders. They must work, grow, and achieve for a greater future.

The staff of the ZENITH invites you to review the year 1967. BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE is the thought for the year.

Dedication of the 1967 ZENITH Goes

To one whom we feel truly deserves this honor. He is an example and inspiration to those around him and gives willingly of his time to benefit others. He is a loyal friend to all his students, and one to whom we proudly dedicate the 1967 ZENITH.

Respected by his fellow teachers and loved and admired by his students, he has made contributions in his field which have been great credit for High Point College. In recent years he has been the director of the Coatings Industry in this area in which he was instrumental in coordinating with the College.

Through his assistance, many deserving students have gained scholarships which have enabled them to continue their work in the field of chemical research. Finally, for his lasting interest in students, his patience, kindness, friendly spirit, and unceasing devotion to the College for several decades, we proudly dedicate the 1967 ZENITH to

We Pay Tribute to

"Tell me more about that!"

Men who think are becoming rare in our society today. Book learning establishes a foundation, but a student's ability to reason will follow him throughout life.

Emerson once said that our chief want in life is "someone who will make us do what we can." We have a proponent of this philosophy on our campus.

Informal classroom discussions and stimulating imagination characterize his technique. His wit is beyond compare.

Ready to help students at any call, he is a teacher, leader, worker . . . for these reasons we pay tribute to Dr. Sam J. Underwood, our advisor.

A leader, teacher, and friend.

Dr. Sam J. Underwood

Dr. Patton Leads Us.

Dr. Wendell M. Patton is a man of many talents and interests. He is filled with aims, ideas, and goals for High Point College.

Time and time again Dr. Patton has proven his ability as an administrator, businessman, and teacher. He does an excellent job of coordinating the activities of the faculty, the Board of Trustees, and the administration.

Dr. Patton displays musical talent.

Tower of Progress

A college must have a living personality separate and distinct from all others. High Point College stands for unique and definite ideas in education and strives to translate them into our philosophy and to reveal through our actions.

The tower stands tall and strong, a symbol of learning, striving, and achieving. It is the center of our goals for the present and the future. The students, faculty, and administration strive to achieve, to learn, and to progress.

Today High Point College is a church-related institution of higher learning with plans for the future.

Golden Decade is the Foundation

This is where it all began, Memorial Auditorium.

Sherry Snow was our first Miss Golden Decade.

With four buildings, 122 students, and a muddy campus the College opened on September 16, 1924. By 1926 the enrollment doubled. Progress was sure for the 60 acres of land and $100 thousand that got the College underway.

In order to make improvements, the Long Range Planning Committee recommended the Golden Decade Development Program or "Operation Golden Decade." This began in 1965 with a goal of $10 million to be completed by 1974. This year was the second phase and a most successful one. The new science building is well underway. Plans are complete for the student union building.

"The past is history, the present is challenge, the future is opportunity. Dedicated to her Christian history, stimulated by the challenge of today, appreciative of the opportunity that is tomorrow, High Point College continues forward to her objective . . . superior Christian education." We are truly BUILDING FOR THE FUTURE.

New Organizations

The Delta Beta chapter of Alpha Phi Gamma is the only chapter between Washington and Atlanta, Ga. The principal purposes are to honor and recognize individual achievement in journalism, as shown through participation on campus publications.

The fraternity serves student yearbooks, newspapers, magazines, and other campus publications. It cooperates and supports the work of professional journalism societies.

With the aid of I. L. Baker this honorary journalism fraternity was established at High Point College in the fall of this year. It has seventeen members at the present time.

Eligible students must be involved in publications at least a year. The local chapter hopes to arouse interest in the fraternity among other colleges in this area, as well as to engage in a number of projects.

Kappa Delta Pi

Kappa Delta Pi is an honor society in education. The Kappa Mu chapter was the first honorary fraternity to be installed on the High Point College campus.

Membership is limited to Juniors and Seniors in the upper fifth of their classes who are majoring in Education.

The first installation occurred on May 27, 1965.

A Day is a Memory.

Breakfast comes at an early hour.

"I've just got to get that swing right today."

A few students take time out from the hustle of classes.

Our days together in 1966-1967 can be captured partly in pictures and partly only in our memories. Time moves very slowly; yet, it also moves swiftly.

Early hours, interesting classes, long meetings, lively dances, and a few leisure hours are parts of the student's day.

After Wednesday Assembly everyone makes a dash for the post office. A letter is a precious gift.

These small occasions today will be memories tomorrow.

"Do you have your Kiddie Lit file?"

Students present Assembly programs.

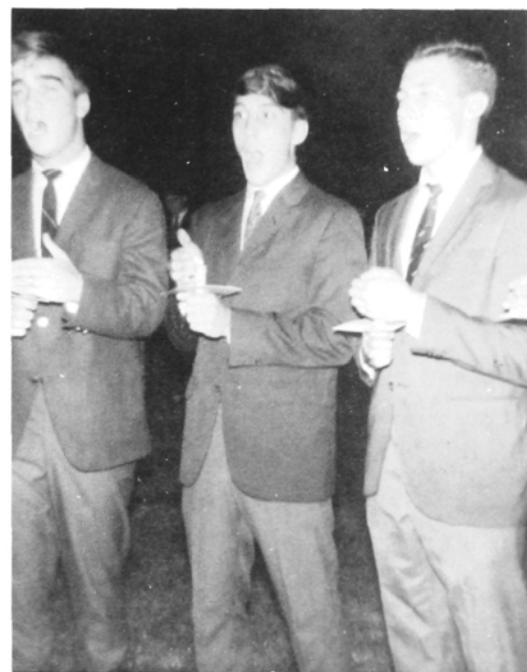

All the mail is up.

"I'm starved! Get this line moving."

Another Day,

A Delta Sig serenade brings the day to an end.

We let off steam at those Wednesday night dances.

Our Campus

Though our campus is small, the atmosphere is big, warm, and friendly. The students take pride in their college.

The snow, heat, and rain bring confusion to the campus but never cover up the constant activity.

Outsiders view only buildings, but when they come inside, they see more than a small college. They view a way of life completely separate from the outside world; yet, it is an active part of the surrounding environment.

The tower light shines brightly through the night. It reflects the life, growth, success, and hopes that the students seek for the future.

Co-Chief Marshals
Lynn Tuggle, Daniel Crews

Each year the Junior Marshals are selected by the faculty from the members of the Junior Class.

The marshals are selected on the basis of their scholastic attainments, leadership, and participation in college activities.

While serving as a marshal, the duties are distributing assembly bulletins and checking attendance, ushering during school programs, and helping at graduation time.

A banquet is given to honor the last year's marshals, new marshals, and dean's list students.

This is the highest honor that can be awarded any junior at High Point College.

Scholastic Honor Society

The Scholastic Honor Society was inaugurated to stimulate and to recognize love of learning and scholarship.

To become a member, a junior must have completed 75 semester hours with a quality point ratio of 2.75 while seniors must have a quality point ratio of 2.25.

To be a member of the Scholastic Honor Society is one of the greatest honors that a student can receive at High Point College.

Orientation Initiates

That first week of college is exciting, fun, unusual, eventful, and sometimes horrible! Whatever the choice of words is, Orientation Week at High Point College is a time never to be forgotten.

The new roommate, new friends, dances, rush, parties, big sisters, and big brothers—all of these make fond memories. Perhaps also not to be forgotten is that lump in your throat as you entered the main gate of HPC, or that small touch of homesickness which came sooner or later.

Faculty members take time-out after talking with the freshmen.

Freshmen enjoy their picnic.

The beanies, beany tickets, and most of all the tug-of-war spirit which brought victory will always remain in our hearts.

Every ounce of our brains was tested!

"What kind of test will they give next?"

Who shall ever forget those long hours of testing in the auditorium or that long registration line?

The Freshman Picnic was fun and filling. Upperclassmen ate their fair share of hot dogs too.

All of these are behind us now but were vital necessities in our steps toward the future.

The Freshmen!

"O. K., let's get that line moving."

"We need refreshment after going through that!"

"On the count of 3 look this way."

Once through that registration line, it's almost Thanksgiving and time for a vacation. At least it seems that way. Classes get into full swing. Tests do, too!

"I have a term paper due next week.", "Who ever advised me to take field hockey?" or "We just about blew HPC off the globe in chemistry lab today." Such statements become daily conversation.

"Girls, get that ball in there."

Classes Set a Steady Pace.

The months, days, hours, and worry spent are well worth the trouble when that magnificent seminar paper is presented. Emma Lou is on the final stretch now.

Greeks Play Active Roles.

Delta Sigs serenade the freshman girls.

It's Sunday afternoon at the ballgame.

Greek women honor their new pledges.

Students Seek to

A student engrossed in his work.

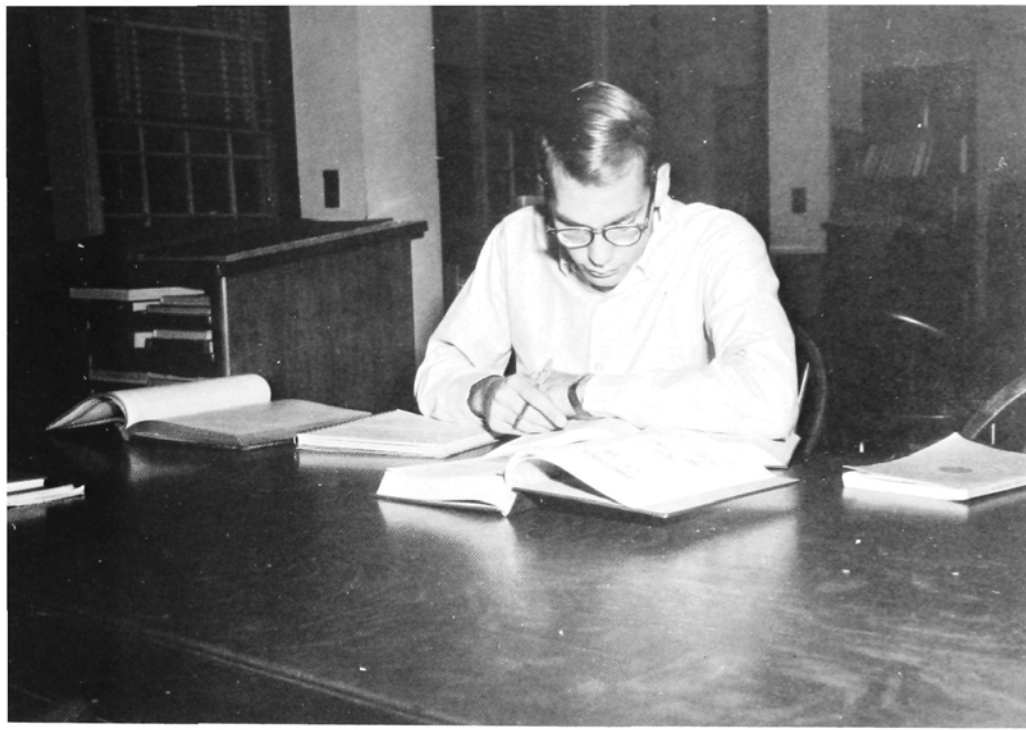

Susan relaxes in the library.

Walking on campus, reading a good book, or just sitting down to think are ways for a student to search and to find himself. Away from the daily routines one learns and dreams.

These quiet moments of the day are a necessity.

A professor has a few moments alone.

A quiet time in a quiet place.

"A time to work and a time to play."

Silence as the Class of 1966 enters.

Find Themselves.

Exams begin today!

That's terribly interesting, isn't it?

Beards Are A New Fad!

Each year students come up with something new on campus. This year the new idea was beards. Some of the guys really "got with it".

If one is interested in bridge, he can find a game day or night. Candlelights have also come into fashion. They really blazed before exams!

"My beard looks better than yours!"

"Anyone for a bridge game?"

"Candy, pass the bottle on. It's not your candlelight."

"How's this for a mob scene?"

"Are the T's up yet?" "She finally decided to write!" "Why don't you hurry up?" These are common phrases heard around the campus post office about 10 A.M. each morning.

There's nothing like standing in line fifteen minutes just to wipe the dust out of your box, but if there is a letter, it's worth waiting for.

"Ya'll come to the Sadie Hawkins Dance."

"Make Love, Not Beds!"

"One false move and there'll be no toilet paper!"

The boys protest against the daily inspections. They made the daily T.V. news and the newspaper headlines.

A cherry bomb somehow found its way into the bathroom. Confess! Who really did it? We'll never get enough of Elmer's glue to put it back together again.

"O.K., who did it?"

And so endth another 11:20.

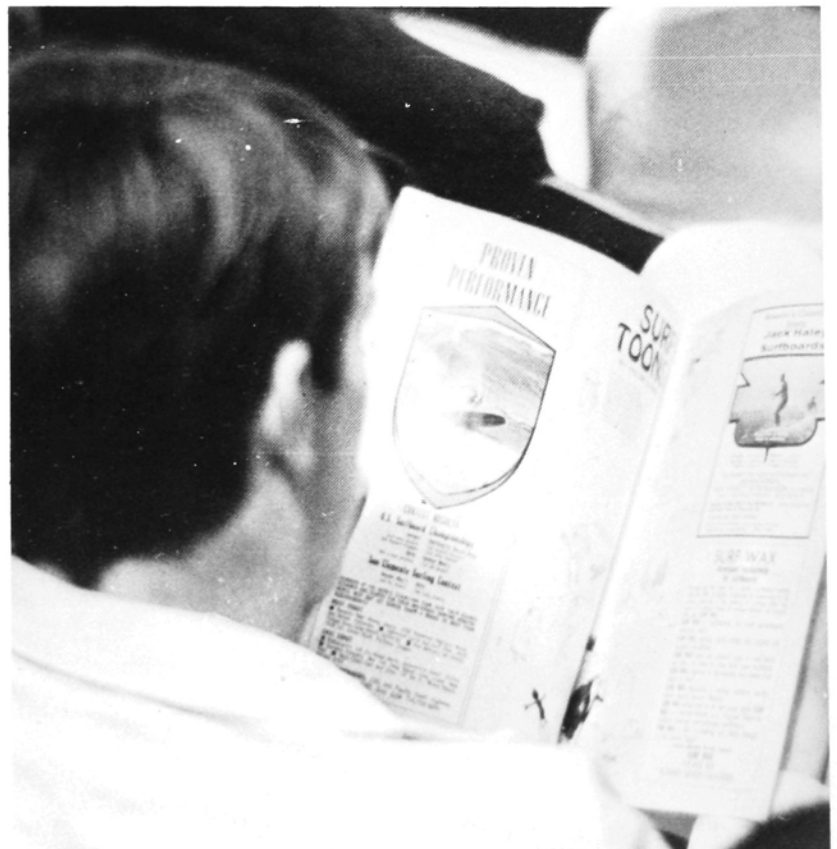

Yum! Yum! Yum!

It's a Busy Day

Rip'em up, tear'em up, give'em hell High Point!

Assembly period is used wisely by serious student.

Seniors Lead The Way To The Future

A lump in the throat, an unseen tear, a hope, and a prayer—all of these happen as the Senior takes that last walk down the hill. It is “the day” that was the future and now is the present. Now is the time to “do” and to “use” what we have learned.

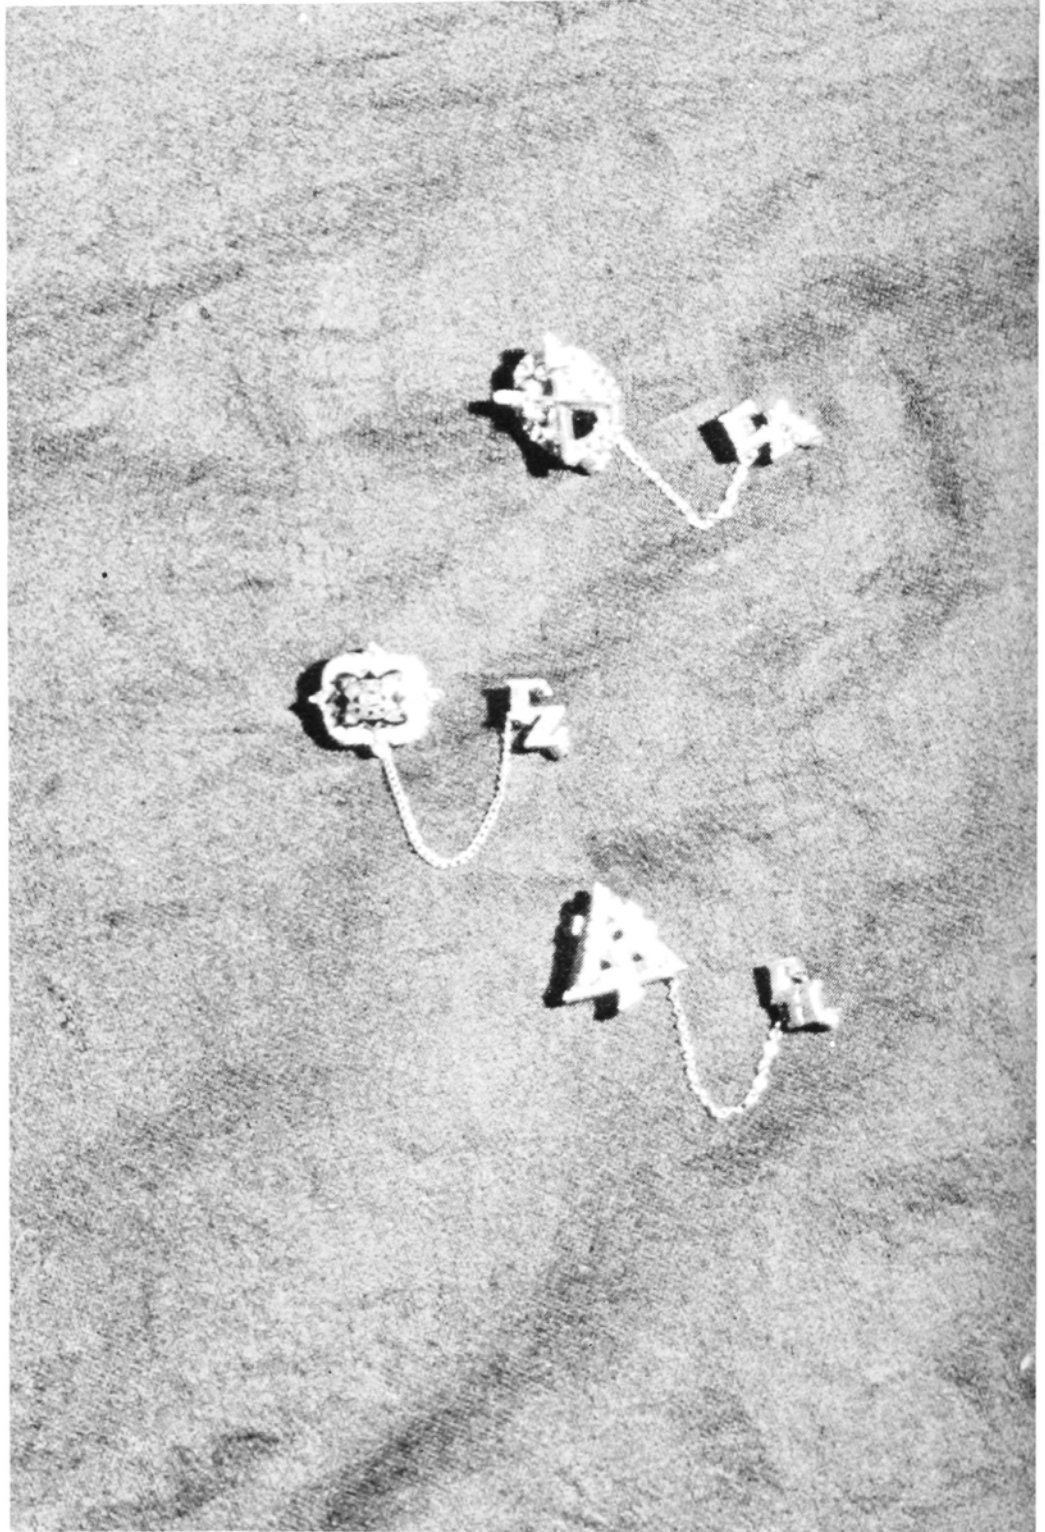

The registration lines, the chats in the dorm, the term papers, the sorrows, and the joys—all of these are behind. But a bright and sunny future is before us—a future that wants all the good and the service that we can give.

The past years have built men and women, men and women who can do the job. The beanie, the tickets, our rings, and finally the cap will always remain in our hearts. Memories of these and this last long walk will remain sacred in our hearts forever.

The knowledge gained and the experiences enjoyed will be a vivacious part of our daily lives. The purple and white of our school colors will be an emblem of building, growing, and achieving.

The lump, a tear, a hope, and a prayer mean one goal reached. Now, we are prepared for our next goal in life.

Greeks Participate

Alpha Gams sing in the Freshman Talent Show.

The Greeks are an active part of everything that goes on at HPC. They are good leaders, active workers, and faithful followers.

Rush, pledges, parties, Greek Week, sisterhood, and brotherhood are all a part of their activities.

Some contributions include helping the Blood Mobile, adopting foreign children, and helping with the VISTA program.

Phi Mu Robin Woodhams displays talent.

Delta Sigs are known for their vocal talent.

Alpha Gams and KD's entertain during Freshman Orientation.

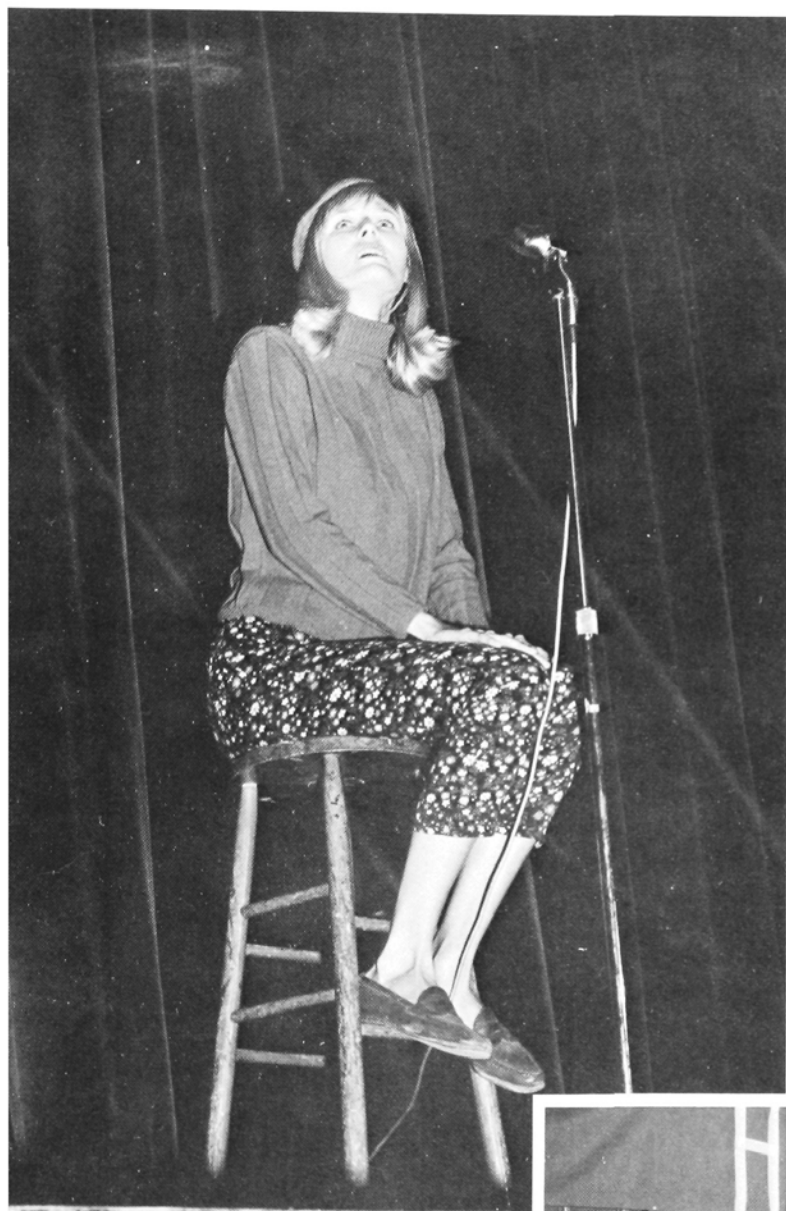

Zetas rejoice after winning the speedball championship.

APD boys give excellent drum performance.

The Greeks did an outstanding job during Orientation.

Alpha Gamma Delta

"... and it began with a true lasting friendship and the love in an Alpha Gam's heart." Gamma Eta chapter of Alpha Gamma Delta fraternity has pursued many activities which have brought our chapter closer together. Enthusiasm and interest was shown by all. We have "adopted" a young boy in India and contributed to our altruistic project. Our President, Ann, attended the Alpha Gamma Delta International Convention in the summer. It has been a tremendous year for us—win or lose, we always have fun.

Memories . . . Dina and her "Little man" from Carolina . . . such dedication—Lorraine played speedball with 104 temperature . . . Wanda and her 28 children . . . Betty finally got the hang of college . . .

Greg hardly saw his pin before Ann was wearing it . . . the week Allison looked like Little Lulu . . . Kiger and Tamara sporting diamonds . . . eleven Alpha Gams in Cathy's Cadillac . . . Fernda and her traveling salesman . . . Fruit-door and Emilie baking cakes . . . Abbott is in a daze . . . Gotch and Newman share, but isn't this taking it a bit too far, Mike?

Patsy's weekend trip to Fla. . . . Our pledges sat on a sheet of paper, their feet wouldn't touch the floor. The bull sessions after lock-up on Saturday nights were great. All the wonderful times we shared make Alpha Gamma Delta a true sisterhood.

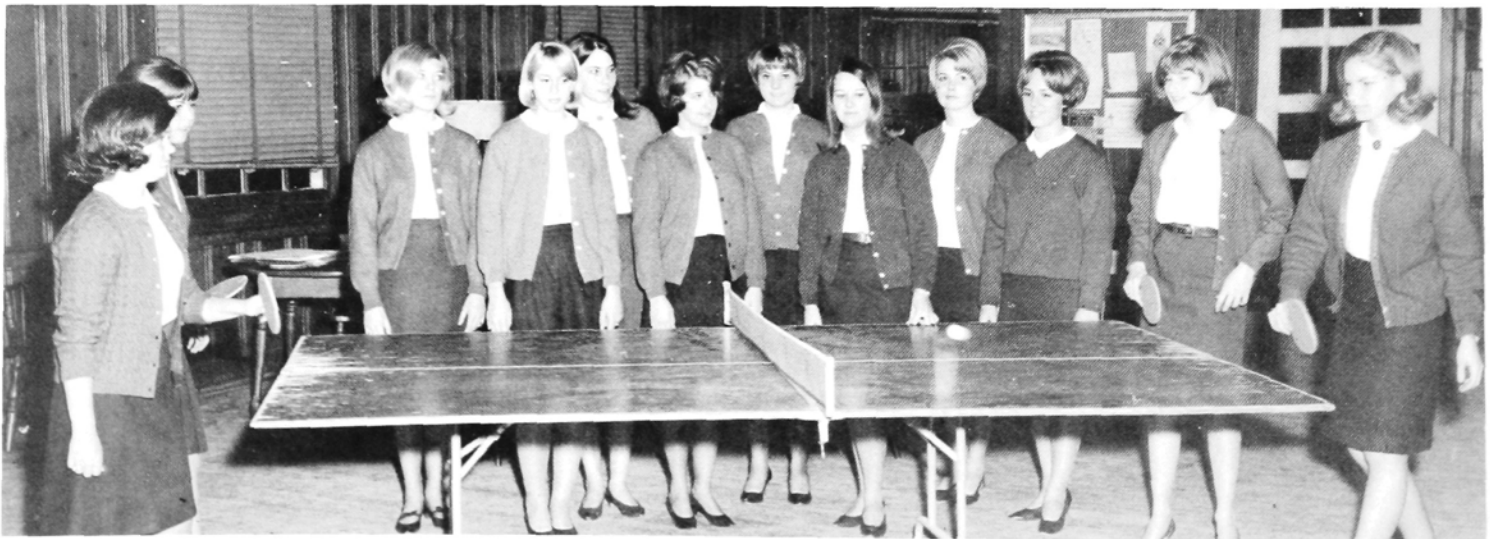

Another candlelight, Ann?

Kappa Delta

Another wonderful year gone by and we wish a fond farewell to our sisters who are leaving us. So many memories from third Yadkin. Rush excitement, "What's the poop!", an elevator full of girls, the "choir" on key, and the unsurpassed 15 — We did it again! . . .

Hey, Buffy, where's the place? . . . Hoppy's hearty laugh . . . Intramurals — going down feeling great; coming back, bruised and pooped . . . Bridge games . . . hunting dates—the pledge dance . . . Anybody for a ring this month? . . . The hen party at the cabin . . . Delaine's New Year's Eve . . . Homecoming honors . . . Our white dresses . . . And what did you do for a month? . . . Island vacations . . . A never forgotten White Rose . . . See you at OD!

Laughter, tears, understanding, a helping hand, a loving hand: these are a part of the beauty of our true sisterhood — Kappa Delta forever.

Sisters and pledges enjoy a KD party.

Student Government Association

The SGA is a guiding body composed of all phases of student life. There are different personalities and varying opinions, but all have a common goal of a better student community. A chance to lead, a chance to serve, a chance to work with the administration and plan for the future characterize the SGA leaders.

In 1967 the officers have worked diligently with the students. The satisfaction of a corporate success and the contrasting despondency of a failure make this a body dedicated to the students of High Point College.

Student Legislature

Student Legislature is made up of student representatives to comprise a cross section of the community. This is the group that expresses decisions through written legislation. These representatives concern themselves with all activities of student life and government, serve on committees for college improvements, for publicity, for polling student opinion, for entertainment, and for recreation. Legislature students hope to stir the interest of other students in their own affairs as it faces apathy and concern. The legislative process is one that involves argument, agreement, revision, communications with others, setbacks, and gains . . . the heart of the student organization.

Judiciary Council

The Judiciary Council of High Point College has the important responsibility and duty of trying all cases involving any infractions of the laws of the Student Government Association and the College.

As the highest judicial body on the campus, the Council follows the principles of law and procedure that are the American heritage. All persons accused of offenses are assumed innocent until they are proven guilty, and the burden of proof falls upon the prosecution.

Thus, our Judiciary Council insures the rights of the individual in the High Point College society.

Men's Dormitory Council

Eddie Patterson, President

The Men's Dormitory Council is the governing body of McCulloch and Millis dormitories. The Council consists of a president, vice-president, secretary-treasurer, head proctor, and two house managers.

It governs and guides with the aid of Mrs. McMeekin-Kerr and Mrs. Long, resident counselors who serve in an advisory capacity.

Rules and regulations are formulated at the beginning of each school year by the Dormitory Council and are enforced basically by means of the demerit system.

The Women's Dormitory Council has many responsibilities and rules to abide by. Members often wait up for 1:00 A.M. dates and special permissions.

Moments of despair and decision appear on Monday nights during Council meetings. Complaints often heard are: No hot water, Where is the toilet paper?, Why no phones?, and let's keep the noise down to a dull roar.

A dreaded consequence is twenty-six demerits. Oops — a maid shortage — Pearl quit! Mr. Dalbey, more new mattresses, curtains, and rugs.

Health inspection is a great threat. Blinds must be dusted, and bed springs must be cleaned!

Duties such as checking freshmen during closed study and insuring the use of sign-out cards is time-consuming for Council members.

Members are constantly besieged with questions concerning college regulations. The Women's Dorm Council keeps the girls on the straight and narrow path.

The ZENITH Staff has the task of creating a yearbook which will be an asset to the College. Unusual events occur each day. There is never a dull moment.

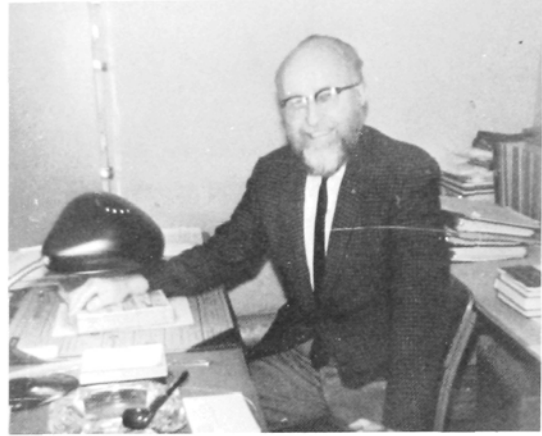

A broken camera, unknown faces, a disappearing photographer, no transportation to the camera shop, and deadlines are basic problems from which we can't escape.

The 1967 ZENITH Staff has worked to make this yearbook a remembrance that will be treasured in years to come. The year has been one of growth and prosperity. We tried to tell the story of High Point College.

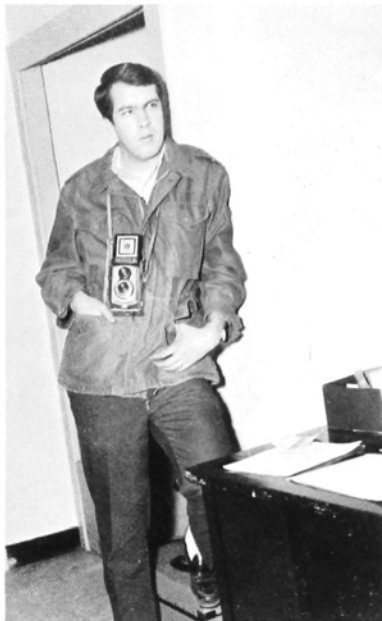

Putting out a yearbook is hard work, tried patience, black circles under the eyes, failed exams, and total exhaustion. We think that the finished product is worth the trouble, and hope that the students do too.

Apogee is the High Point College literary magazine. This is a magazine composed of student contributions.

Students submit poems, short stories, art work, and book reviews. A prize is given to the best one in these categories.

This staff sees the need to encourage thinking and creative writing from the students. Its main objective is to find these latent talents and show them to the world.

Tower Players

The Tower Players are members of the student body who enjoy many phases of dramatic production. Building sets, rehearsing, lines, designing costumes, and selling tickets consume much time.

The real satisfaction comes when the final curtain falls, and the members know that they have been a success.

This year's play, "J.B." was a tremendous success. With the help of Robert Milli the cast gave a tremendous performance.

The musical presented second semester was also outstanding.

Under the direction of Mr. Don Drapeau, the Tower Players worked diligently to present this entertainment to the students, faculty, and public.

Robert Milli was the first guest artist that High Point College has had. He worked with the largest cast in the history of the Tower Players.

College Concert Choir

The High Point College Concert Choir is composed of interested music and non-music majors. Hard work and good times have made this organization memorable for all.

The Choir has done a great deal of hard work preparing for the college assembly programs, various church services, the Christmas Concert, and the choir tour.

The director, Mrs. Redding, has done wonders during her first year as the director. The Choir is a source of entertainment and pleasure for the students and the faculty.

The Choir believes that it has enriched the lives of all with whom it has come in contact. The members themselves have received the greatest benefits—the joys of working together in a common bond toward basic goals.

Sisters united in work and play, this is Alpha Delta Theta, a service sorority. Surprising little sisters, forming teams for intramurals, working with VISTA in a tutoring program—all of these characterize Alpha Delta Theta.

The Fall retreat at Millbrook was great. Feasting on spaghetti and singing with the player piano was enjoyed by everyone.

Throughout the year the sisters and pledges work hard on many projects. At Christmas there is the gay making of gifts. For the Presbyterian Home a special Easter program is presented.

Fooling Heart Sisters in February is loads of fun. In addition there is annual fun and picnicking at City Lake.

All this and more are to be found within Alpha Delta Theta. The holding of devotions in Lindley Chapel is of great significance for we try to live our motto—Sisters in the Service of God.

Inter-Fraternity Council 1966-67

Inter-Fraternity Council is the governing body for the four Greek letter social fraternities. This year the I.F.C. has made giant steps toward increasing its influence on campus and within the community. Operating under a new Constitution the I.F.C. is now able to function in new and varied situations.

With emphasis placed on cooperation the I.F.C. coordinates fraternal functions for the Greeks such as the I.F.C. Scholarship award, rush, co-recreation night, and a trophy to the outstanding fraternity man.

Greek Week is an exciting event for the High Point College campus. Each fraternity participates actively in the events of this week.

One of the main objectives of Inter-Fraternity Council is to facilitate the mutual exchange of ideas which help to promote and strengthen the Greek system on our campus.

"I hate posing for Pictures!"

Dick Lewin, President

Miss Elizabeth Cole, Adviser, Miss Diane Holt, President

The Panhellenic Council is an organization established to foster interfraternity relationships, to assist collegiate chapters of the National Panhellenic Conference member groups, and to cooperate with the colleges and universities in maintaining the highest scholastic and social standards. With this in mind, the four National Panhellenic sororities on the High Point College Campus strive to create a greater Panhellenic spirit.

The Council coordinates in all the Rush activities. The members meet in the Panhellenic House which is supported by the different sororities.

The members serve as a means of communication between the College, the sororities, and themselves. By working together, they foster sisterhood between the four sororities which are: Alpha Gamma Delta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, and Zeta Tau Alpha.

Methodist Student Fellowship

L. to R.: Front Row: Alice Thompson, Doris Whitt, Judy Davis, Mary Grissom. Back Row: Larry Adams, Jim Elkins, Kitty Kindred, David Tuxhorn.

The major purpose of the Methodist Student Fellowship is to instill a stronger Christian faith through meetings with fellow students. The group meets on Friday nights to look objectively at their beliefs and to attempt to formulate an intelligent faith.

Among the activities are worship in Lindley Chapel, group singing, and a service project. Twice a year students participate in retreats at Camp Chestnut Ridge, meeting with learning from students on a state-wide basis. This year our MSF aided in hosting the Methodist Student Movement held in High Point.

All the criterion for these endeavors is the life and teachings of Jesus Christ as found in the BIBLE.

Kitty Kindred, President

Student Christian Association

L. to R.: Bob Hamilton, President, Claudia Payne, Vice-President, Susan Griffin, Secretary, Doris Whitt, Publicity Chairman, Martha Hadley, Job Opportunity Chairman, David Tuxhorn, Treasurer.

The Student Christian Association seeks to show the love of God as revealed in Jesus Christ, in order to build a more vital Christian fellowship among students and to coordinate effectively the activities of religious organizations on campus. The SCA attempts to make the student body aware of the importance of religion in their lives both during their college years and in the future. The SCA fulfills its purpose with the Orientation worship service, Finch Lectures, and Religion in Life Week.

Baptist Student Union

The Baptist Student Union is composed of Baptist students on campus. The officers are Sue Cheek, President; Billie Allen, Vice President; Marizell Austin, Secretary; and Linda Corn, Treasurer. The advisor is Dr. Owen M. Weatherly.

The purpose of the Union is to combine faith and learning and to help the student become involved in experiences of the Christian community everywhere. It helps the student become aware of the understanding the "Love Impels Sacrifice Toward Every Need".

The Union meets in Lindley Chapel. Many attend the state conferences and make new friends.

The group tries to accomplish definite goals through fellowship and service.

L. to R.: Sue Cheek, President; and Billie Allen, Vice President.

Student National Education Association

Betty Jo Vaughn, President

SNEA provides an opportunity to develop an understanding of the teaching profession through participation in the work of the local, state, and national education associations.

The purpose is to interest young men and women in education as a life-long career and to gain practical experience in working together on problems of the profession and of society.

SNEA at High Point College is one of the largest organizations on campus. The members enjoy interesting programs.

A highlight this year was having Dr. Lois Eddinger to present the Assembly program one morning. She presented interesting information.

English Club

Jim Sloan, President

The English Club is composed of members interested in the vast literary world of the Twentieth Century. At the meetings, the discussions about modern-day poetry help to attain a sense of appreciation for literary genius.

This is not a club in the ordinary sense of the word. It is a meeting of emotions, humors, minds, and bodies. The challenge is for a better understanding of literary works.

The members eat together in the private dining room and have their meeting afterwards. Listening to outstanding guest speakers tell the many facets of learned men improve the intellect and desire for learning.

Forensic League

The Forensic League receives welcome and the red carpet treatment at Princeton University.

L. to R.: Miss Cole, Advisor, Angie Smith, President

This year the Forensic League concentrated on debate for the fall semester. The debaters began with the novice tournament at Wake Forest, and a trip to Boone for the Appalachian State College tournament. To climax the semester, five members were taken to Princeton University for debating and extemporaneous speaking. Spring semester brought the 35th annual South Atlantic Forensic Tournament in March and several other Forensic events.

The American Humanics Foundation exists to provide specialized college-level training for careers in youth agency administration. It provides so that a leadership major can help in society's tremendous and growing need for effective youth agency leaders.

The Foundation endorses the Human Relations Department, providing a curriculum in Humanics (the science of human leadership), stressing liberal arts plus professional preparation, leading to a B.S. degree.

The Curriculum is enriched by a required pattern of workshops, field trips, an annual retreat, and seminars in order to correlate theory with reality. This provides professional contact for the student prior to graduation.

L. to R.: Cornet, LaGrange, F. Matthews, Austin. Standing: Bridwell, Bowden, Lord, Coston, Davis, Stillwell, Mr. Moody, advisor. Not pictured: Egan, Alderson, Teague.

Humanics Student Association

The Foundation also provides a Resident Administrator for the department plus any others needed for the functioning of the Human Relation Department. An excellent library is available to students.

President Jay Cornet works with Mansell Bridwell preparing refreshments.

Students enjoy the second annual Humanics Campus Day.

Physical Education Majors Club

The Physical Education Majors Club strives to promote a professional interest in the field of Physical Education. Members are given the opportunity to broaden their scope and understanding of the profession.

New members are introduced to the club at the annual fall outing. Majors are active in the basketball ad campaign as well as working behind the concession stand during all home games. A new innovation this season will be the physical education majors serving as ushers and also hostesses for the Panther Club Hospitality Room.

A highlight of each year for the entire student body is Co-Rec night sponsored by the club.

During the month of April "steak" is the password when all majors gather for the spring outing.

The annual Awards Banquet honoring our varsity athletic teams closes out an active and rewarding school year.

Women's Athletic Association

Miss Clary, advisor, aids Sharon and Tillie with gymnastic stunts.

The Women's Athletic Association, full of fun, hardworking girls, has had another wonderful year. The planning of the NCARFCW convention was hard but pleasurable. Anyone for another one next year? Each year brings intramurals with the hope that good sportsmanship as well as good winners and losers will be the result. Volleyball, basketball, tennis, ping pong, speedball, and field hockey are all enjoyed. The inter-school programs bring a host of tough competitions. Anyone for volleyball at Appalachian? ("Hey, Miss Clary, when do we stop and eat?")

New activities are introduced to help bring in more of the student body — this year we hope to find four good referees for a wild powder puff football game. All in all it has been a wonderful year.

Biology Department

The Biology Department has four major objectives. It provides introductory courses in plant and animal sciences in order to fulfill the general requirements of the college in science. It provides a sequence of courses which lead to a concentration in several areas of biological sciences which prepare a student for graduate school and positions in the fields of research, industry, and public health. It also provides courses which will prepare the students to teach biology in high schools.

The faculty of the department is encouraged to do independent research. Dr. Miller has a number of publications dealing with research he conducted in Arizona. Dr. Lazaruk has several grants from the Piedmont University Center.

Dr. William Lazaruk, Ph.D.
Department Head

Mrs. Angela Foin, M.S.

Stresses Research

Dr. Dorothy Stewart, Ph.D.

Students learn by doing.

Dr. Halsey W. Miller, Ph.D.

Nelson Heads Business Department.

Mr. James L. Nelson, M.S.
Department Head

The Department of Business Administration and Economics offers three degrees; in Business Administration, Economics and Business Education.

The curriculum is designed to develop the capacity of students to make sound judgments in their eventual role as business executives, and to give the students an understanding of economic institutions and a knowledge of basic principles and analytical tools of economics and business.

Experience and reason support the view that training for a successful career rests upon a comprehensive education in the broad area of human knowledge. Therefore, students in this department follow virtually the same program of liberal arts studies in their first two years as do the students in other departments.

The Department of Business Administration sponsors jointly, with the Department of Religion and Philosophy, the Church Management Institute. Faculty members and students in the department participate in the Fancourt Memorial Seminars and in other workshops and seminars throughout the Piedmont area.

Mr. George Netts, M.B.A.

Mr. J. Wilson Rogers, M.B.A.

Mr. Walter B. Thompson,
M.A.

Mrs. Gwendolyn S. Watson,
M.Ed.

Mr. Robert G. Leonard, M.S.E.

Epperson Heads Chemistry.

The Department of Physical Science has several objectives: to provide the opportunity for all students to undertake fundamental study in the fields of chemistry, geology, and physics; to provide training in depth in the methods and principles of physical science for those students preparing for further study in the fields of medicine, dentistry, medical technology, and related fields; to provide a broad appreciation of these fields for those students planning to teach; to provide a depth and breadth of training in chemistry so that a student can think analytically and by logical reasoning formulate a plan of attack for the solution of an academic, research, or industrial problem.

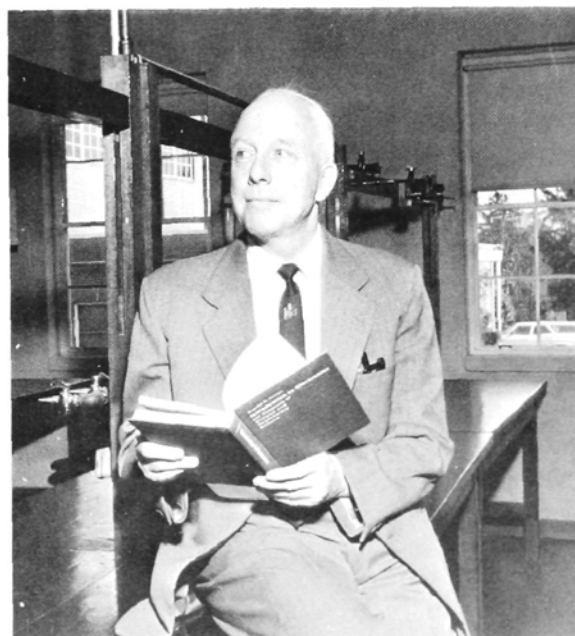

In addition to the formal lecture and laboratory training prescribed by the curricular offerings, "trickle-down" of research findings and methods are presented throughout the undergraduate work so that an appreciation of the limitations and frontiers of science may be obtained. Our most important objective is to achieve a continuing dialogue between student and faculty with the ultimate goal of mutual expansion of knowledge.

Dr. E. Roy Epperson, Ph.D.
Department Head

Dr. E. O. Cummings, Ph.D.

Dr. Christopher L. Wilson, Ph.D.

Education Stresses "Blocks."

Dr. Dennis H. Cooke, Ph.D.
Department Head

The purposes of the Education Department are: to coordinate the education of all teachers and to provide the necessary professional education courses and experiences; to provide a major in elementary education; and to contribute to the over-all general education objectives of the College.

Beginning with the 1960-61 school year, the College was given full national accreditation by the National Council for the Accreditation of Teacher Education for the education of elementary and secondary teachers.

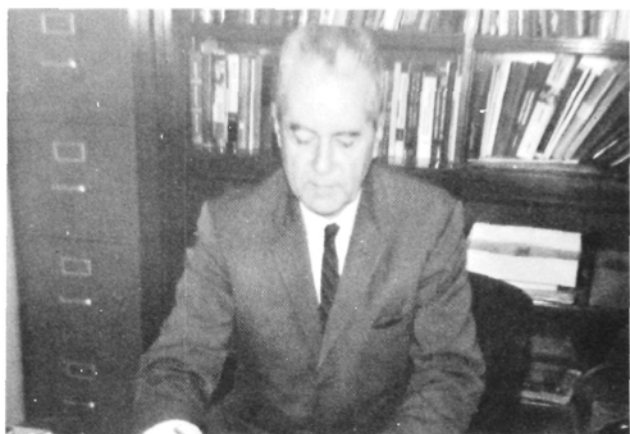

In May, 1965, a chapter of the National Honor Society in Education — Kappa Delta Pi — was installed by the national organization.

On December 2, 1965, the College was notified of its approval by the North Carolina State Board of Education of the College's new approved-program approach in teacher education.

Five faculty members teach in the Department, one of whom, Mrs. Nancy Shelton, was added this year. All others have been members of the Department for some time.

Mrs. Nancy W. Shelton, M.Ed.

Dr. H. H. Peterson, D.Ed.

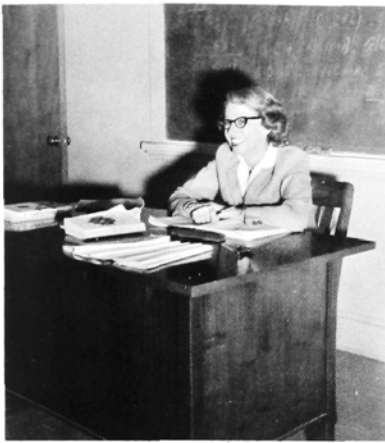

Miss Ruth Worthington, Ed.S.

Dr. James A. Thacker, Ph.D.

English Department Has New Courses.

Mrs. Emily Sullivan, M.A.

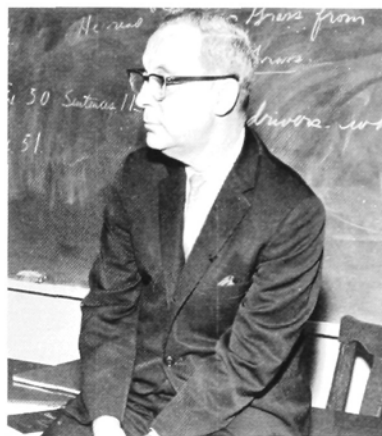

Dr. C. E. Mounts, Ph.D.

Dr. Sam J. Underwood, Ph.D.
Department Head

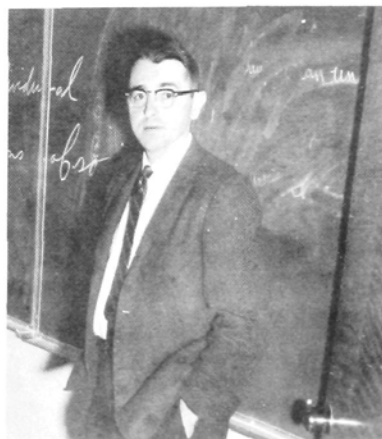

Mrs. Shirley Rawley, M.A.

Mr. Ira L. Baker, M.S.

Mrs. Lucille Godwin, A.M.

Mr. William R. Phillips, A.M.

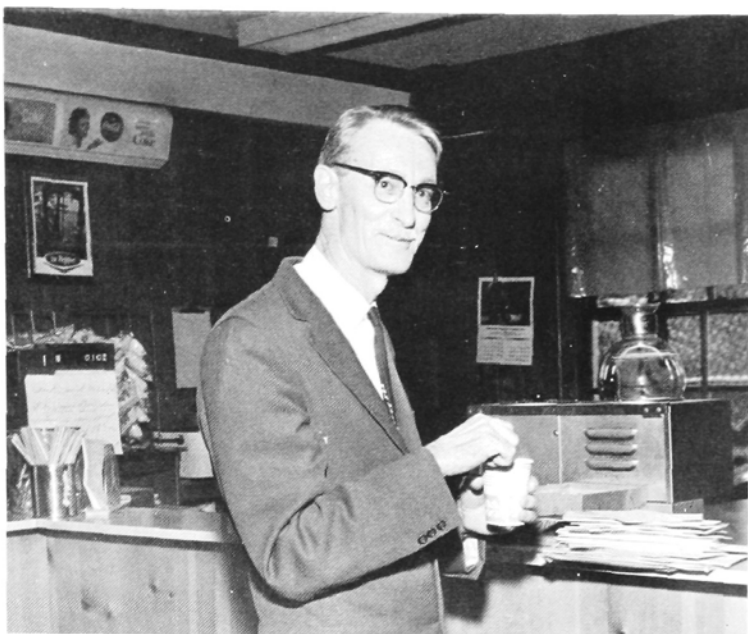

The English Department has made several changes this year. Introduction to Literary Genre, Survey of Western Literature, and a one-semester course for A.B.T. candidates in English Literature were introduced.

The department encouraged one outstanding student to study in England at the University of Manchester.

For the first time, the English Department is working directly with the Education Department in training English teachers.

We worked to get a writer in residence to teach creative writing second semester. Mr. Baker establishes an honorary Journalism Fraternity.

Dr. Underwood went to England to do research in the British Museum.

Dr. Lew J. Lewis, Ed.D.
Department Head

Fine Arts Department Entertains.

The Fine Arts Department develops performers, artists and teachers as a primary function, but a very important obligation is its sponsorship of cultural events on campus and the emphasis on the growth and refinement of all students appreciation.

There are three divisions of this department: art, music and speech. Each section offers special opportunities for the student's interest. The art students visit many exhibits and display their own work. The choir and band give concerts as well as go on tour. Student recitals are also presented. The speech student has an opportunity to debate and act. All these programs add to the cultural atmosphere of the college.

Gratiot Heads

The History Department has three main objectives: first, to prepare the majors for graduate work; second, to give adequate preparation to those students planning to enter teaching, law, and other fields; third, to aid students to develop a broad understanding and appreciation of learning and culture in our various courses.

The History Caravan tours historical sites after learning about them. This is part of the new theories in education.

Dr. A. Paul Gratiot, Ph.D.
Department Head

Dr. S. C. Deskins, Ph.D.

Mrs. Mary Calloway, A.M.

Mr. James R. Pritchett, M.A.

Dr. Harold E. Conrad, Ph.D.

Dr. David W. Cole, Ph.D.

Humanics Department

Has 14 Majors.

The purpose of the American Humanics Foundation is to offer college work, for the students who are planning to enter the fields of Youth Agency work. Some of the careers open in this field are: Y.W.C.A., Y.M.C.A., Girl Scouts, Girls' Clubs, Boy Scouts of America, Boys' Clubs, Campfire Girls, juvenile courts, training schools, Junior Achievement, recreational therapy, counseling related fields.

The American Humanics Foundation was first started on the campus of Missouri Valley College, Marshall, Missouri. It was started because many workers in the youth serving field felt that there was a great need for specialized training for young persons preparing to enter this field. Today there are four such departments on college campuses in America.

Mr. L. E. Moody, M.A.

Departments are located in Salem College, Salem, West Virginia; Indiana Central College, Indianapolis, Indiana; as well as Missouri Valley College and High Point.

The department opened in the fall of 1965 with Jay Cornet and James Coston as the only students. This fall the department has a total of fourteen students. Seven of these students are oriented towards Boy Scouting but the others are planning on Y.M.C.A., Girl Scouts, juvenile court, and other youth serving fields. It is hoped that eventually we will have approximately one hundred students on the campus each year. When the number of students justifies it there will be an associate administrator on the campus. Next year looks good to the department.

Language Department Improves Standards.

The High Point College Modern Language Department has come upon several recent improvements. Freshmen will be given advanced standardized Language Placement Tests, to improve norms of excellence. The advanced literature and culture courses are being conducted as seminars with high scholastic requirements.

Plans are being made for improvement of the language laboratory, in order to better serve students and improvement of advanced language courses.

On Sunday, November 6, Mr. Juan Miranda of the Spanish Department, spoke on the High Point College Presents television series.

Dr. Arthur E. Le Vey, Ph.D.
Department Head

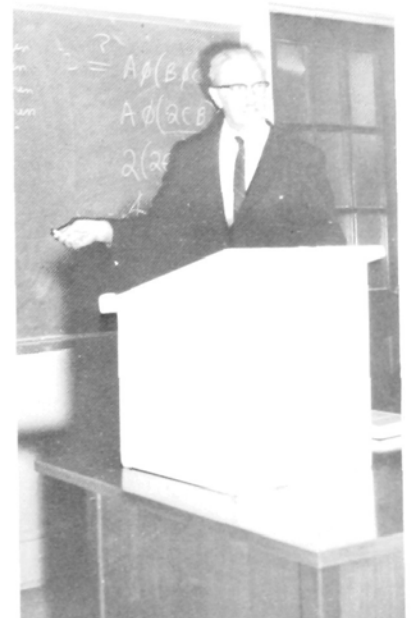

Mr. Juan Miranda, A.B.

Miss Berta Hirtzler, M.A.

Mr. Thomas E. Scott, A.M.

Mr. N. P. Yarborough, A.M.

Cook Heads

The most important purpose of the Mathematics Department is to furnish a well-rounded program of mathematics for students who have chosen this area as their field of major concentration. Courses for science majors as well as required courses for Pre-Engineering, Pre-Forestry, or Pre-Medical Curriculum in preparation for their transfer to other institutions for completion of studies in these fields.

The interest and encouragement of the department is not limited to majors in this field and background courses for the sciences, however. The mathematics department is an integral part of the total education program of the college. In addition to the encouragement and enthusiasm of the professors, an adequate background in mathematics is provided for all students graduating with a Bachelor of Arts degree in any of the various departments.

Mr. Carlton J. Cook, M.S.
Department Head

Mathematics Department.

Mr. Alvin G. Myrick, M.A.

Miss Louise Adams, A.M.

Mr. Manyon L. Idol, M.S.

Physical Education Department

New faces head the Physical Education Department this year. The students welcomed Dr. Charles Morris and Mr. Robert Vaughn to HPC.

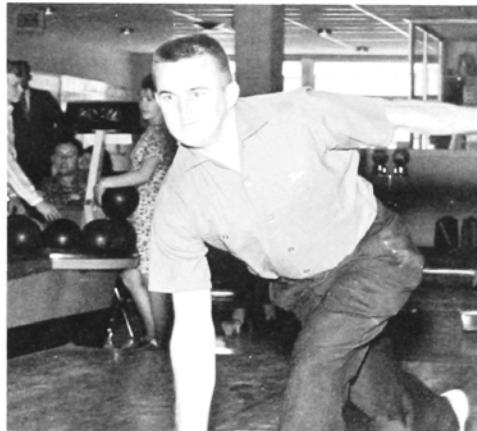

The department has introduced new programs in recreation, and the gymnasium is available to students now more than ever before.

The department strives to develop an appreciation for the rules and laws of exercise. Another primary function is to present the fundamental principles of teaching and directing group activity and competitive sports.

The Pep Club and the Panther Hospitality Room are two new innovations of the department which create enthusiasm and support of the activities during the year.

Dr. Charles M. Morris, Ed.D.
Department Head

Mr. Charles F. Hartman, A.M.

Changes.

Miss Betty Clary, M.Ed.

Mr. Robert F. Vaughn, M.A.

Mr. Robert D. Davidson, M.E.

Psychology Plays Important Role.

Dr. William P. Matthews, Ph.D.

We try, in the area of psychology, to help a student become tough-minded, flexible, and gain a scientific, problem-solving approach to his life and living.

The major in psychology starts his major study with general psychology and winds it up with seminar. Those students who intend to use psychology as a direct vocational choice are urged to continue their schooling in graduate school toward the master's or the doctor's degree.

Most of our students who continue their education are pointing toward courses in clinical psychology, personnel psychology, the teaching of psychology, or counseling.

Many students find this major advantageous who are going into work involving direct contact with people. Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, social work of all kinds, and governmental work all deal with psychology.

Mr. Joseph Godwin, M.Ed.

Mr. Herman E. Coble, A.M.

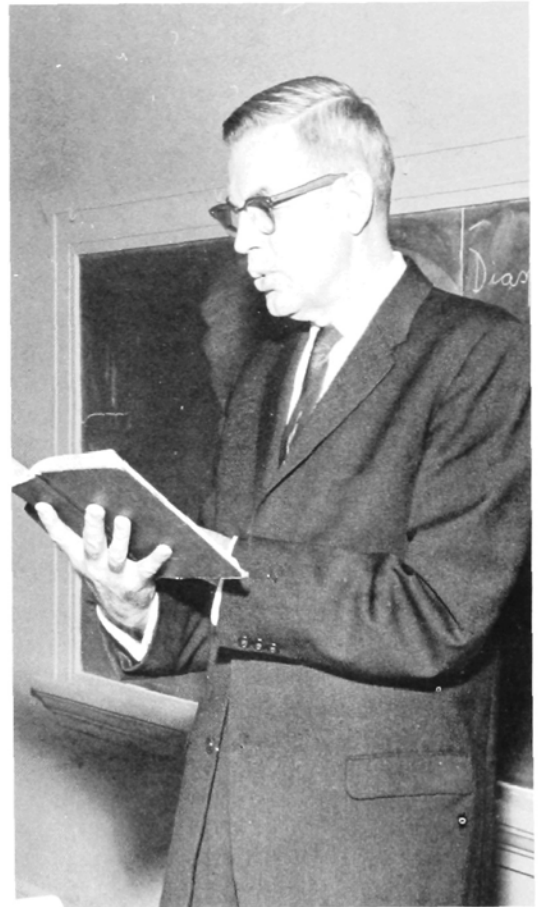

Dr. Louis B. Pope, Ph.D.

Religion Department

Plans Journal.

The Department of Religion offers general courses in Religion to all students in order to make them aware of their spiritual heritage and relate this heritage to the modern world. Philosophy courses offered make possible the study of the great thinkers of the past and the practice of right thinking today.

Plans are under way for the Department to publish a journal. This journal will include articles by members of the Department, other faculty members, and students. The articles will be in the general area of religious thought. Dr. Crow will be responsible for editing the journal.

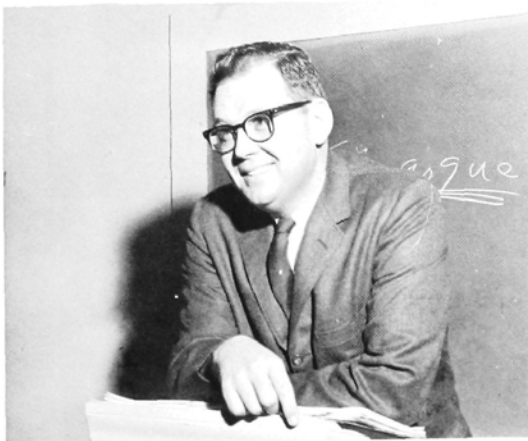

Dr. William R. Locke, Ph.D.
Department Head

Dr. Owen M. Weatherly, Ph.D.

Mrs. Dorothy Hays, M.R.E.

Reverend H. Samuel Carter, B.D.

Dr. Earl P. Crow, Ph.D.

Sociology Department

It is the aim of the Sociology Department to provide a curriculum which prepares the student to understand the total society of which he is a part, and to learn how he can make his individual contribution to that society.

Students may major or minor in sociology. These courses have been selected to help the student understand the structure and interactional behavior of society. Special courses are also offered to prepare the student for a specific area of work, depending upon his or her selection of a profession.

The thirty-three hours of courses in sociology required for a major are only able to introduce a student to any particular field of concentration and to make him able to handle a specific position as a beginner. This will provide initial preparation for graduate study. A year or two of actual experience is suggested before doing graduate work to make the graduate work more beneficial.

Dr. L. M. Hays, Ph.D.
Department Head

Mr. William F. Cope, M.S.

Has 67 Majors.

Freshman Officers

The Freshman Class of '70 found its place on campus the first day and planned to continue the lively pace kept by all during Orientation Week. There were, however, obstacles to overcome including beanies, court, and the tug of war. After the trying preliminaries of campus life and registration, the class began to become a vital part of the student body. The first project planned was the participation in Parent's Day. The Freshman Talent Show was the next successful activity sponsored by the class.

Spring semester included such activities as the freshman lecture, concert, busses to Dr. Zhivago, spring social, and the Freshman Scholarship. It was a year of growth and action for the Class.

Freshmen took part in sports, journalism, campus government, clubs, and cultural events. The fresh enthusiasm of class members began the first year with success and ambitions.

Sophomores Renew Friendships

Bill Stewart — President

The Sophomore Class's main project this year was a complete revitalization of the Freshman Beanie Program. Changes included a shorter period of time, a more ritualistic capping ceremony, better interest of both freshmen and upperclassmen, and the muddiest, wettest, most fun-filled tug-of-war ever.

The Capping ceremony made quite obvious the seriousness that the sophomores felt for their part in the orientation of the HPC freshmen. The notes of the just-learned Alma Mater were mingled with sophomore laughs of authority as the freshmen knelt to receive their purple and white crowns and solemnly repeated their Beanie Oath.

The sophomores assigned duties to the freshmen every Wednesday to help them become better adjusted to their college and new friends. These included a Dress-Up Day, Meet Your Colleagues Day, and a Know Your Rules Day. Failure to fulfill these duties resulted in a Beanie ticket.

Drudgery and humiliation ended for the freshmen when they overcame the foe, and celebrated their victory at the Sophomore-Freshman dance featuring the Shantelles.

Jr.-Sr. Highlights Year

Bobby Robertson, President

Junior Class

The Juniors embarked on their third journey with their class officers: Bobby Robertson, Pres.; Ken Machlin, Vice-Pres.; Ann Scott, Sec.; and Elinor Brading, Treas.

Juniors were quite excited about receiving class rings. Junior Marshals were named and preparations were made for the long awaited Junior-Senior Prom.

A shining light, an open door, a spark of radiating knowledge burst from the minds of the students during their junior year. Courses took on a new meaning and began to form the foundation for the graduate. Thoughts of graduation, teaching, and graduate school entered the juniors' minds as they began to see their final year just beyond the horizon.

College Life Draws To A Close

Officers

Jim Spiridopoulos, President

Having chosen their separate paths, the seniors bring their college days to an end. Nevertheless, college memories will remain with them, especially those of the last year.

The officers, Jim Spiridopoulos, Sally Reed, Laura Coltrane, and Tillie Clark worked together with the aid of Mr. Drapeau, the advisor.

That special senior superiority, the Junior-Senior Prom, and that long-awaited day which opens a new door to the future are all a part of the senior year.

The Class of '67 has been an asset to the College, and the College has certainly been a major part in their development as Americans and as adults in our society.

Laura Coltrane, Secretary

Sally Reed, Vice-President

Tillie Clark, Treasurer

Cheerleaders Lead School Spirit!

L. to R.: Diane Abbott, Tamara Kearns, Julie DeGooyer, Chief, Mimi Bratt, Diane Holt, Barbara Taylor.

"Get that arm up high and yell!"

"Yeh, High Point!"

Hard work, long hours, and constant practice are the requirements for a good cheerleader. This year we have had a superior squad.

These girls cheer our team on to victory with the experienced guidance of Julie, the Chief.

The squad has made a special effort this year to acquaint the students with new and better cheers. The cheerleaders are a necessary asset to the team and to the students.

The Pep Band and Cheerleaders gave a swinging assembly.

Pantherettes of HPC

Back Row: L. to R.: Perry, Coffey, Kendle, Sykes, Auman, Reid, Feimster, Hayden.
Front Row: Tuttle, Howlett.

The lady Panthers really came through again this year. After hard work and good sportsmanship, the team retained its standing.

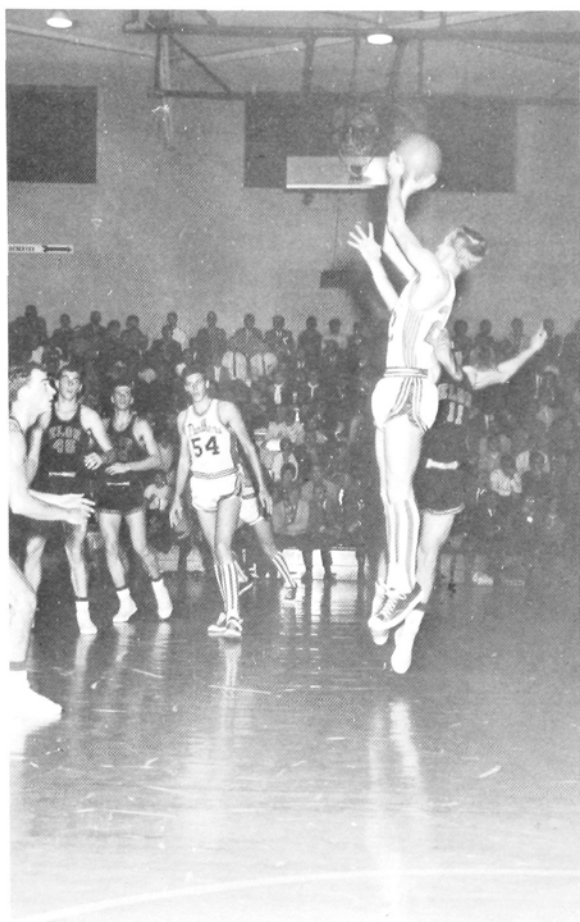

For the past two years the Pantherettes have won the Gold Medal Championship at the YMCA. Wanda Howlett and Mickey Tuttle led their team to many victories this year.

Miss Clary throws the ball for Wanda and Mickey.

Witt, Davis Get Into Full Swing.

Danny jumps high against Elon.

"O.K., Boys, give them what you've got!"

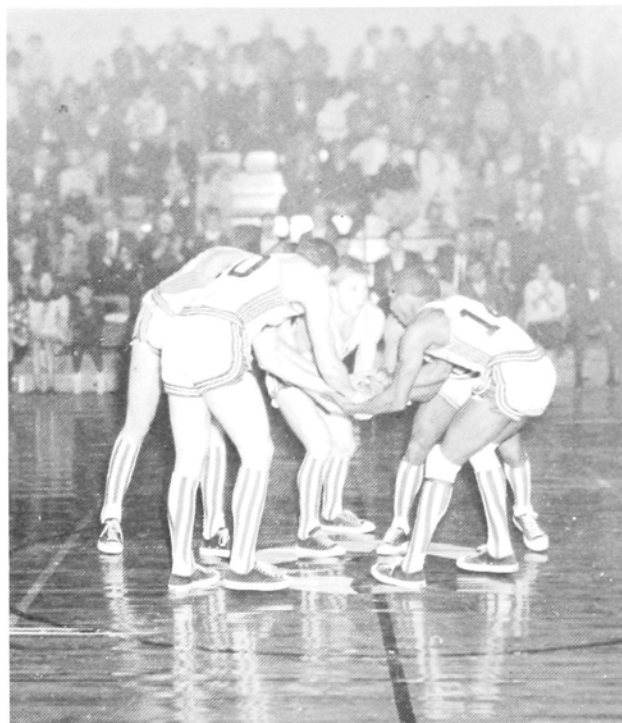

The Panthers started this season with exciting action. They welcomed Coach Bob Vaughn as their new leader.

Basketball season brings the College campus alive with school spirit and enthusiasm. HPC received great pride and pleasure from the 1966-1967 Panthers.

We've got the
coach that knows,

We've got the
team that fights,

ICTORY

We've got that Panther spirit!

An All Conference catcher sure helps.

Coach Hartman helps co-captain, Bobby Robertson.

A perfect swing every time.

A happy moment, another hit.

This year's baseball team has great potential for the coming season. Many players are returnees from last year and with the addition of some fine freshmen the team will go far. A full schedule is in store for the team yet with their skill and ability there will be excitement for all who go to the games. Coming from behind, those vital base hits, and the final inning tension all contribute to a thrilling sport.

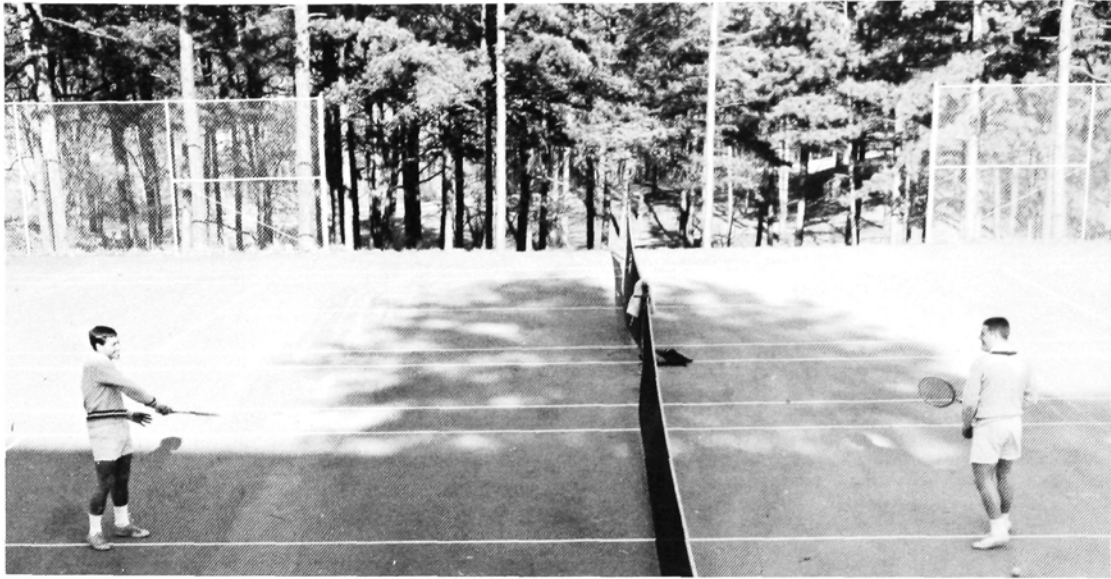

"Get that ball!"

Coach supervises pitching practice.

The "Building for the Future" for the year 1966-67 fades away and is recorded in the history of High Point College. Although the school year is ending, the memories will live on and help our College grow and expand.

The staff feels a sense of accomplishment in putting the final touches on the 1967 ZENITH. Many changes have influenced the presentation of this book, especially the Golden Decade Development Program started in 1965. We tried to tell the real story behind High Point College.

This year the staff sacrificed many hours in order to present you this book. Among them are Wayne Eddinger, associate editor; Andy Craig, photographer; and Ray Baity, business manager. A special "thank you" goes to Lynn Simone, the layout editor and to Dr. Underwood, our advisor. He was always there when we needed him, but never in the way, which made this a real student publication.

We hope that the student will take special pride in the cover of the 1967 ZENITH which is in purple, the school color. Seniors, you wanted a purple yearbook, and now you have one.

The staff hopes that you will appreciate and treasure this book. My final acknowledgement goes to the 1967 ZENITH Staff. "Thanks, Staff, for everything!" We close with the hope that High Point College will forever be "Building for the Future."
